

My escape plan

It is really important that you and your household have an escape plan in place.

Hopefully you will never need to use your plan, but if a fire does occur at your home, at least you'll be prepared.

Create your plan together. Make sure all members of your household know what the plan is, including the children. Remind your household regularly of the plan, and practise your escape route.

In the event of a fire in your home:

- 1) Wake up all members of your household
- 2) Make your way out, via the nearest safe exit
- 3) Call 999
- 4) Stay out

*PLEASE NOTE:
Some of our buildings operate a stay put strategy. Please make yourself aware of your building's specific plan.

If you discover a fire or the smoke alarm sounds in your home, GET OUT

Main escape route (usually the main route in and out of your home)

Question: Are the escape routes accessible to everyone? If there are people in your home who may need extra help (children / older people / those with mobility issues) assign them someone to assist.

Agree a meeting point outside: Once you have all exited the building, meet up to ensure everyone is safe
