Getting in touch

Moving in

Now that you have your keys, you can start to set up your new home. Make sure you get in touch with key organisations to set up your accounts for:

- Gas
- Electric
- Water
- Council tax
- Internet/phone
- TV Licence.

It's also important to note down your tenancy reference number. This will be used in many of our letters to you and it's needed for rent payments.

My tenancy reference number is:

Keep an eye on your keys!

Lock changes are expensive and we don't keep spare copies.

Setting up your utilities

Ensure that you take the necessary meter readings for your gas and electric, so you only pay for what you use.

If you have gas central heating or a gas fire, the system has to be recommissioned by our Property Services team.

Contact the team on 0800 013 8555 to arrange an appointment.

Top tip

For pre-payment meters, you need at least £5 credit on both your gas and electric meter card.

Paying your rent

There are several ways to pay your rent. You'll have a dedicated Customer Account Co-ordinator to support you in managing your rent account.

Direct Debit

Call us on 0800 013 8555 to set up regular payments with your Customer Account Co-ordinator.

Phone

Call us on 0800 013 8555 to make payments over the phone. We can take telephone payments 24 hours a day, seven days a week. You'll need your personal telephone payment number for this, please record it below.

My personal telephone payment number:

Using a swipe card

We'll provide you with a payment card to make payments at local shops if needed. You can use these at the Post Office and at PayPoint outlets.

Do it online with My NCHA

My NCHA is a customer account where you can access your tenancy details, pay your rent and request repairs.

There's no need to wait on the telephone as My NCHA allows you to get tasks completed in seconds.

Available 24 hours a day, it's the quickest way to:

- Make payments
- Check your account balance
- Update your account details
- Book repairs appointments
- Let us know if you have any extra needs so we can best support you
- And we've got much more planned!

Visit my.ncha.org.uk to sign up for an account today.

Online bank transfer

You can also do an online transfer directly to our bank account. Please quote your tenancy reference number with the payment, so this can be allocated to your account.

Payee name: NCHA Ltd Rents

Sort code: 30-00-02

Account number: 04113719

Supporting

you

If you're struggling to pay your rent, contact your Customer Account Co-ordinator to see how we can help.

Your Customer Account Co-ordinator can refer you for specialist advice on the support that's available to you. This can include help with debt issues or claiming benefits that you may be entitled to. Call your Customer Account Co-ordinator on 0800 013 8555 for information.

Failure to pay your rent may lead to you losing your home.

Extra help when you need it

Our Community Support team provides short term support to our customers to help sustain their tenancies. They also assist customers in the practical aspects of managing a home.

Visit www.ncha.org.uk/help-with-my-tenancy for advice.

Self-help support

available for you

We have a series of self-help pages on our website with online tools to help you:

Find work and boost your career skills

Improve your digital skills

Make your money go further

Look after your home

Take care of your wellbeing.

If this could be useful to you, search for 'self-help' on our website or visit www.ncha.org.uk/self-help/to get started.

Sole to joint

If you have an assured or secure tenancy and the tenancy is solely in your name, you can ask us to make it a 'joint tenancy' by adding another person to it. Whilst it is not a legal right to grant joint tenancies, we will consider all requests and visit you in person to discuss this and review the condition of your home. We will take into account any tenancy agreement breaches as part of our decision.

Joint to sole

If you have a joint tenancy and are applying for a sole tenancy (to remain in the property alone as a sole tenant), we must first receive confirmation from the other tenant that they no longer wish to be a tenant of the property. We will also carry out affordability checks and a property inspection.

Where a request for a sole tenancy is received from a joint tenant who is a victim of domestic abuse, we will make every effort to investigate the case and source evidence to support the request. We may then find it necessary to end the joint tenancy and issue a sole tenancy to the person subjected to domestic abuse. Please note: We will not create two new tenancies out of one tenancy.

Mutual exchange

If you have an assured or secure tenancy, you have the right to exchange your home with another assured or secure tenant (who may have a different landlord), subject to certain conditions. You can find another home this way by registering with Homeswapper where other tenants advertise their properties.

We will assess your mutual exchange application within 42 days and write to you with our decision and reasons. We will take into account your rent account balance, any tenancy breaches and ensure any rechargeable repairs have been completed. There may be times when a mutual exchange may be refused in line with legal requirements or it may be agreed subject to certain conditions being met.

Your tenancy

Want to move?

If you're looking to move house, we may be able to help you. We can provide advice and support to find you a new home and discuss your options.

We don't have a waiting list to transfer homes, and we take people and families nominated to us by local councils.

Your first option is to contact your local council and apply to be registered on their waiting list. Councils make all allocations and nominations in accordance with the government legislation.

Succession

If a tenant dies, you may have the right to inherit the tenancy – this is called succession. Your right to inherit a tenancy depends, amongst other factors, upon the type of tenancy you have and the relationship with the tenant who has died.

We appreciate this is a difficult time for anyone in this situation, and will deal with your request sensitively. If you are worried that you do not have succession rights, rest assured that we will work with you to find another home if that is the case. Please do get in touch with us so that we can help you.

Visit 'my tenancy' and 'my home' on NCHA's website for all key information regarding your tenancy.

Your neighbourhood

All customers are allocated a Community Coordinator to discuss any issues relating to your tenancy, home or neighbourhood.

Talk to them about anti-social behaviour, litter, fly-tipping or any concerns with estate management.

The Community team will contact you within the first 12 weeks of your tenancy. They'll then follow up with you after nine months to see how things are going.

The Community Safety team will investigate reports of anti-social behaviour by your neighbours. This includes assaults, verbal abuse, harassment, noise nuisance and the use of illegal drugs.

You can make a report online at MyNCHA or during office hours you can call 0800 013 8555. If you're in immediate danger, please call the police on 999.

Visit www.ncha.org.uk/my-neighbourhood to find out more.

Disposal of goods policy

As your landlord, NCHA has responsibilities to keep communal areas within our properties in a safe condition. This includes removal of any items that could cause a fire risk or be a trip hazard to anyone trying to leave the building in an emergency situation. You should therefore not keep any of your possessions in communal areas.

If you or your neighbours leave items within communal areas, we will work with you to remove them within a reasonable time period. However, if you or your neighbours refuse to remove items, we will need to enforce this and remove items ourselves. You could be charged for the costs to clear and store your belongings until you collect them or we dispose of them.

Disturbance policy

Sometimes, we have to ask tenants to move out of their homes temporarily or permanently as a result of emergency situations (e.g. to conduct major repairs).

- If you need to move out temporarily while NCHA carries out major repairs, we will find alternative accommodation that meets your household's needs. However, hotels or bed-and-breakfasts may be used in an emergency. We will reimburse costs for reasonable expenses for the duration of the work.
- If you need to move out permanently, we will help to find you alternative accommodation and you will be entitled to a 'home loss' payment.

Visit the 'my neighbourhood' section on NCHA's website for more information.

Reporting repairs

Our Property Services team provides a comprehensive repairs service.

Repairs are completed within set timescales, depending on how urgent they are.

We've included examples of how we prioritise repairs below:

- Emergency – Burst pipes, blocked drains, window/door security, lifts, loss of heating and hot water in autumn and winter.
- Urgent – Lifts and heating needing parts or loss of heating and hot water in spring and summer, door entry systems and communal TV aerials.
- Routine – Dripping taps, minor repairs to walls, woodwork, guttering, floors, brickwork, fences, kitchens and bathrooms (etc.).
- Non-routine: Any works that will take more than four hours and need more than one operative (or where parts are required) and we're advised the delivery of these parts has a long lead time.

Visit the My NCHA portal for details on how you can report non-urgent repairs online.

If it's urgent or an emergency, it's best to call us on 0800 013 8555.

What to do if you smell gas

If you smell gas, immediately call the National Grid emergency number on 0800 111 999. You should:

- Turn off the gas supply if possible and extinguish flames
- Do not smoke, light matches or turn any electrical switches on or off
- Open windows and doors.

After calling National Grid and following this safety advice, please call us to report the issue on 0800 013 8555.

Making changes to your home

Check with us before you complete any home improvements, as you need written permission before any work can go ahead. Failing to get this may result in charges or us asking you to undo the work.

Why it's important to check with us

There are many reasons why you shouldn't make changes to your home without letting us know. Just some of these include building safety, fire risks, and potential asbestos issues in a small number of homes that were built before 2000.

Even if asbestos is suspected in your home, it shouldn't be a problem if left undamaged. But, it's vital to take extra care when carrying out any DIY, especially when drilling, painting or decorating. Never disturb or try to remove any materials that may contain asbestos – contact us for advice.

Visit our website for more details (search 'asbestos' under the 'Manage my home' section) or request a print copy of our advice leaflet.

Remembering the small things

Even small changes need permission. Whether you're considering new laminate flooring or mounting a TV to the wall, we'll need to know. We can make sure any works are done to a high standard to keep your home comfortable and safe.

Before you make any changes, let us know via your My NCHA account (sign in at: my.ncha.org.uk).

Keeping your home safe

We will not tolerate anti-social behaviour amongst our customers. All reports of this are taken seriously, logged and investigated.

If you feel threatened or concerned speak to your Community Co-ordinator.

Call 999 for your local police station, if an incident is so serious that you're in immediate danger.

Fire safety

We take fire safety very seriously, as you'd expect. We carry out regular fire assessments on our buildings, which take into account the specific features of a building, like its height, and the people who live there.

Our general fire safety booklet contains useful advice on staying fire safe at home. It includes a guide to creating an emergency escape plan for you and your family.

If you live in a building with a communal area (usually a flat), we have a specific fire safety booklet, with separate guidance. This information includes details on:

- Where to find the fire action notice for your building
- Considerations for establishing a personal escape plan
- The new requirements for the inspections of fire doors.

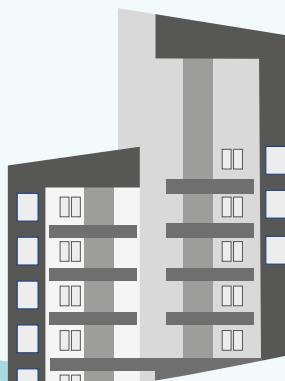

This information will be provided to all new residents when they first move into their home, and we will send out reminders every year too.

Visit www.ncha.org.uk/firesafety to find out more and download copies of the booklets.

Building safety

Regular health and safety checks are conducted in all communal areas to ensure building safety.

Keeping you safe

Domestic abuse

If you're experiencing domestic abuse, call us on 0800 013 8555 for advice. We can help make your home more secure, or if necessary, help you find a new place to live.

Call 999 if you or someone else is in immediate danger.

Alternatively, contact your local neighbourhood policing team for support if it's not an emergency. You can also contact the National Domestic Abuse Helpline on 0808 200 0247, 24 hours a day.

We know that some people may struggle to find a time to talk and need to keep things confidential.

Email us on info@ncha.org.uk for advice if necessary.

Visit www.ncha.org.uk/domestic-abuse for more on the support we provide.

Adaptations

Minor adaptation requests for items such as grab rails, hand rails and lever taps can be requested by emailing adaptations@ncha.org.uk or calling us on 0800 013 8555.

Major adaptations such as lifting equipment and wet rooms must be requested by an Occupational Therapist who will assess your needs. Occupational Therapist recommendations can be emailed to our Adaptations team on the above contact details.

Need extra support?

If you need any specific or additional support from us, please let us know in your My NCHA account or by calling us on 0800 013 8555, so we can tailor our services to make them more accessible for you.

For example, if we know you have a visual impairment, we can give you information in large print or a format you can listen to.

If you would prefer, you can appoint an advocate to speak to us on your behalf at: www.ncha.org.uk/contact-us/advocates/

How to identify damp, mould and condensation

We undertake stock condition surveys and ongoing checks to ensure properties are monitored as part of our zero tolerance approach to damp and mould. There are some things you can do to help prevent, identify and report damp and mould issues so we can take swift action.

If NCHA install any equipment to address issues within your home (e.g. dehumidifiers, ventilation units etc.), you must keep the equipment running as instructed to ensure its effectiveness.

Damp

Signs: Damp may appear as a dark, wet patch that may also cause flaky plaster and a pungent smell.

Causes: Damp occurs when water finds its way into a property due to problems such as:

- Damaged gutters or broken roof tiles
- Rising damp through flooring
- Internal leaks.

Mould

Signs: Mould can appear in different colours, but it's often dark and spotty.

Causes: Mould is a kind of fungus that develops from airborne spores:

- It usually grows in damp conditions without much airflow
- Bathrooms and loft spaces often suffer from mould.

Condensation

Signs: Visible water droplets gathering on surfaces, usually cold surfaces such as windows or walls.

Causes: Condensation is a build-up of moisture that usually occurs on windows and walls when there is too much humidity in the air.

- Humidity causes water droplets to form and soak into the cooler areas of a room, like walls and windows
- Condensation can result in mould growth if not treated.

How to help prevent damp and mould

These suggestions may not remove damp and mould, but they can help manage it while we're taking other steps. They're good practice to follow even when damp and mould is not a problem in your home.

Good ventilation – open windows/curtains when it's sunny, keep trickle vents open, and use extractor fans and dehumidifiers when cooking/bathing/drying clothes

Don't block radiators with furniture

– tip: tuck curtains behind your radiator

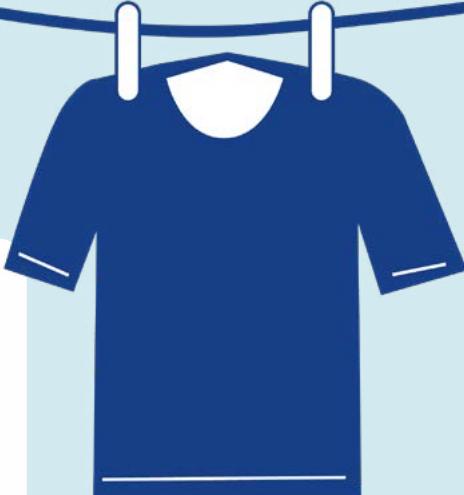

Avoid moisture getting into the air – e.g. run an extra spin cycle on laundry, dry clothes outside where possible, and keep lids on saucepans

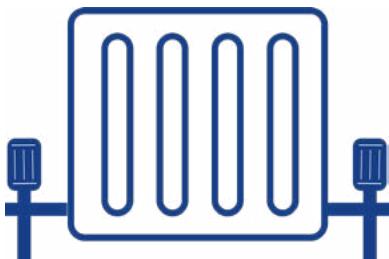

Use heating systems effectively

– Set your thermostat to maintain a temperature of around 18 degrees where affordable

Radiator valves –

Set radiator valves (TRVs) low for unused rooms ('2-3') to maintain a baseline heat and higher for used rooms ('4-5').

Please report any issues to our Customer Experience team immediately so we can act quickly to resolve any concerns and keep your home free of damp and mould.

Keeping your water safe

Legionnaires' disease

Legionnaires' disease is a potentially fatal form of pneumonia, which can affect anybody. It's caused by certain types of legionella bacteria, which can lurk in contaminated water.

For some people, especially those with underlying medical conditions or weakened immune systems, infection with legionella bacteria can be fatal.

How it spreads

The bacteria spreads in small droplets of water which are inhaled (for example, if water is sprayed/splashes). The bacteria multiply in slow-moving or standing water.

Although the risk of getting Legionnaires' disease in a domestic home is low, it's important to take care.

Symptoms of Legionnaires' disease

Initial symptoms can include a high fever, chills, headaches and muscle pain. Around a third of infected patients also develop diarrhoea or vomiting. Seek medical advice as soon as possible if you have any concerns. Legionnaires' disease can be treated effectively with antibiotics.

Things you can do

If you've been away for a week or more and not used your taps and toilets, follow this advice:

- 💧 Set the thermostat on your hot water to at least 65 degrees Celsius – but be careful you don't scald yourself if you don't have mixer taps
- 💧 If you've not used a tap for a week or more, run it for at least two minutes to flush it through – take care to avoid splashing
- 💧 If you've not used your shower for a week or more, flush it through at both maximum and minimum temperatures
- 💧 Flush any toilets that haven't been used for a week or more – keep the lid closed as you do so to avoid splashing
- 💧 Clean and disinfect shower heads regularly to make sure scale and bacteria don't build up over time.

Top tip:

To protect yourself from being splashed by water droplets, you could secure a plastic bag with a corner cut off over the shower head to allow water to escape or place the shower hose over the drain.

If you have any concerns about your water safety, you can call our Customer Service team on 0800 013 8555

Getting the most out of your heating system

The Heating Hub is a website that offers further guidance and resources for customers with various forms of electrical heating, including:

- Combination ('combi') boilers
- Electric storage heaters
- Gas heating with a hot water cylinder – please note that minimum temperatures need to be higher for this heating type to prevent legionella.

It is important to note that guidance may be different depending on your type of heating system.

Your rights as a tenant

We recognise it's our responsibility to ensure your home meets the government's Decent Homes Standard, and complies with current health and safety legislation.

By living in an NCHA home, you have:

- a. the right to a home that is fit for human habitation
- b. the right to receive notice of any visits we plan to carry out (for things such as repairs or maintenance etc.)
- c. the right to reasonable adjustments if you have any specific needs (please tell us about these in your My NCHA account).

If you have any questions about your rights as a tenant, please get in touch at:

www.ncha.org.uk/contact-us

Get involved

We always welcome people who want to get involved and shape the way we do things here at NCHA. As well joining a panel or a formal group, you could take part in occasional focus groups and surveys.

This rewarding opportunity allows you to be part of something that can make a real difference in your community.

You'll have your say in shaping the services that matter to you, while being paid for your time and insight.

We'll provide you with all the training and support you need to fulfil your role.

Visit www.ncha.org.uk/get-involved for more on customer engagement or you can email customerengagement@ncha.org.uk.

Feedback and complaints

We welcome your feedback and use it to improve the services we provide.

If something has gone wrong with your home or our services, please let us know so we can put things right. We'll try to resolve your issue when you first contact us.

If you're not happy with the outcome of a complaint, you can have the issue reviewed by a senior manager.

Please also let us know when we've gone the extra mile – it's always great to record this and make our employees aware of it.

Visit www.ncha.org.uk/service-standards for details and information on our Feedback and Compensation Service Standard.

Housing Ombudsman for complaints

If you need further help, you can contact the Housing Ombudsman at any time.

Visit www.housing-ombudsman.org.uk for their contact details.
