

ncha Summary

NCHA's approach to TSMs

There are 22 Tenant Satisfaction Measures (TSMs). 10 of these are measured by us directly in relation to management information, and 12 are measured by carrying out satisfaction surveys with customers.

All of our TSMs were measured following the specific descriptions and calculations outlined by the Regulator of Social Housing and following the advice and guidance outlined in the Tenant Satisfaction technical requirements and the Tenant Satisfaction Survey requirements.

We collected our TSM data in two waves in October 2025 and March 2026 for the period 1st April 2025 to 31st March 2026. This is the same approach as we followed in the previous year.

900 TSM surveys were carried out on our behalf by an independent research company, Service Insights, working with Housemark. The role of Service Insights was to carry out the calls. The role of Housemark was to collate, analyse and benchmark the results.

All surveys (100%) were completed via telephone. The telephone surveying approach is consistent with the previous year, when 100% of surveys were also completed by telephone. When carrying out the surveys, the research company followed the script and questions set by the Regulator of Social Housing for the 12 satisfaction measures within the TSMs. No incentives were offered to customers for participation in the survey.

As part of the telephone surveys, we also collected data on seven additional questions using the Warwick Edinburgh Mental Wellbeing Scale. Additionally, we asked two further questions in wave one (relating to damp, mould and condensation and additional feedback on complaints handling), and four additional questions in wave two (relating to tenant participation in NCHA's decision making and direction, and support for customers with vulnerabilities). The additional questions will be used to measure the social impact and effectiveness of our work in different areas, inform areas of focus and improvement, and allow us to build tenant involvement. The exact wording of the questionnaires used, including the additional questions, has been provided below.

A random sample of all customers across the relevant population was selected for the surveys.

Our sampling was representative of our customers across the following selected characteristics: Tenure, Age, Building Type, Ethnicity. We did not need to apply any weighting to the survey responses.

The statistical confidence achieved through the surveying was +/- 3.87% for LCRA, which was within the requirement of +/- 4.00%. For LCHO it was +/- 5.08%, which was slightly outside the requirement of +/- 5.00%.

A summary of representation across these characteristics is presented overleaf.

Representativeness by Tenure

Representativeness by Age Band

The rationale for selecting the identified characteristics was to ensure a broad spectrum of responses and ensure we were not excluding any one area. Including tenure also helps us to identify any internal areas of improvement or focus.

In determining the rationale for telephone surveys, we took advice from Housemark and consulted with our Customer Committee. The rationale for selecting 100% telephone surveys was that it was better able to meet the requirements for representation across the selected characteristics and the other technical requirements, within our surveying timescales. It was also considered a more appropriate approach for asking potentially sensitive questions on wellbeing.
